CLAIMS WILL BE PASSED IS WHAT BALLINGER SAID

Session in Hearing Today Shows Letter to Cunningham of Friendly Assurance

HE WOULD CALL BALLINGER

Clarke's Attorney Wants to Put Secretary on Stand, But Latter Seeks to Escape

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 25.—The prosecution in the Ballinger-Budget congressional inquiry forged a new link in their chain of evidence today by establishing that on August 17, 1907, Clarence Cunningham, manager of the ninety million dollar Alaska coal claims, wrote to Daniel Guggenheim, of the Morgan-Guggenheim syndicate that he had been promised by the commissioner of the land office (at that time Ballinger) that his claimants would receive their patents within ninety days.

Wants to Call Ballinger

An unexpected demand by Attorney Brandeis on behalf of L. R. Clarke, that Secretary of the Interior Ballinger be called to the witness stand this afternoon was made at the resumption of the congressional inquiry today.

Attorney Vertrees, representing Ballinger, objected, claiming Ballinger was his witness, Brandeis then made a lengthy argument in support of his demand.

"We certainly ought to have control and direction of our chief witness," complained Vertrees.

Was He Bluffing?

"Well," retorted Brandeis, "I desire to call attention to a letter of Secretary Ballinger in which he says: 'I will be glad to be present at all times.' He says he would be glad to order to further the hearings, to be present as many times as necessary."

The attorney said he desired to put certain matters by calling the witness which could not in any other way be brought to the attention of the committee.

Wants the Facts

"Now of no judicial proceeding is this course would not be proper," Brandeis continued, "but certainly we ought not to be denied that opportunity in a 'free and open country, not limited by technical rules as are ordinary proceedings.'"

Committee Decided to Thrash

the question later in executive session.

Birth is Called

Brandis then called Stephen D. Brandis, managing director of the Morgan-Guggenheim syndicate in Alaska, to the stand.

Brandis said that it was in the spring of 1907 he first learned of negotiations between the Morgan-Guggenheim syndicate and the Ballinger claimants through a talk with Clarence Cunningham.

Shows a Deal

Brandis here put in evidence the minutes of the meeting of Cunningham claimants at Seattle from which it appeared that Cunningham had been approached by a representative of the Guggenheims with regard to the deal.

Had an Option

The option which the committee learned before Eckles was introduced, was dated Salt Lake City, July 25, 1907. Correspondence between Guggenheim and Clarence Cunningham in regard to claims, was read by Brandeis. One of these letters Cunningham declared that in response to a request from Guggenheim to hurry the issuance of patents in the cases the commissioner of the land office (Ballinger) had agreed that everything would be cleared up within 90 days.

"I feel that the patents will be issued in the ordinary course of departmental affairs," Cunningham said in concluding.

Ballinger With Them

John N. Steele, another of the Morgan-Guggenheim representatives, was testified.

Reading from documents produced by Steele, Brandeis brought out the fact that Cunningham accompanied the syndicate's coal expert to Alaska, when he examined the claims.

DAZZLE CHAIRMAN

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 25.—The new rules committee of the house met this afternoon and elected Dazzle (Pa.) chairman.

The committee as elected is identical with the caucus selections. Representative Currier (R., N. H.), chairman of the republican caucus, presented the resolution calling for election of the entire committee. The committee was elected unanimously.

CLAIMS COMMITTEE

The claims committee of the congressional board of supervisors is in session of the court house today, looking over bills preparatory to the meeting of the board next Wednesday.

ERHART'S STORE IS BROKEN INTO; $200 IS MISSING

Burglars Enter Drug Establishment During Night and Help Themselves to Cash

UNLOCK DOOR WITH A KEY

Cash Register and Safe Are Opened and Drawers Left Open; Goods Are Also Taken

Unlocking the side door, leading from the lobby of the Majestic theater to the drug store of O. T. Erhart, 518 Main street, burglars entered the establishment last night and succeeded in getting away with cash estimated at $200, besides a large quantity of fountain pens and razors. The robbery was not discovered until this morning, when the clerk opened the store and found the drawers in the cash register all pulled out and the safe door wide open and the drawers ransacked. The police were notified and on investigation it was found that the side door was unlocked. It was found that the door may be unlocked with half a dozen different keys, so it was an easy matter to gain entrance to the store.

Although the exact amount of cash stolen is not known, Mr. Erhart says he estimates his loss at nearly $200. "I have not had time to figure up my cash," said Mr. Erhart, "but all the cash in the two cash registers and also in the safe is gone. In one of the registers we have six drawers. Some of these were locked so they could not be opened, but something like $25 or $30 was taken from those that could be entered. All of the money in the other register in the soda fountain department was taken.

"The safe was locked by me last night when I left the store and this morning the door was wide open. The burglars must have struck the combination. Just how much cash there was in the safe I cannot say but it was considerable. Checks that had been left in the safe over night remained untouched. Things were pretty well scattered about the floor when the discovery was made.

"While I have not examined all of the stock in the store we have found that they cleaned us out of the best fountain pens and razors we had in the store."

James Jarvis, stage manager at the La Crosse theater, says for two nights previous to the robbery he saw a strange man lurking in the corridor of the Majestic theater, from which the door leads to the Erhart drug store.

MRS. CARGILL IS SINKING RAPIDLY

Mrs. W. W. Cargill, who has been ill at her West avenue home for the past few months with heart trouble, is gradually sinking and has very small chance to survive, according to her physicians. Drs. Gunderson and Christiansen. She has been getting along poorly for the past month, having suffered several sinking spells. The children are all in the city at the present time.

DAVID LIVINGSTON IS DEAD AT MERRILL

MERRILL, Wis., March 25.—David Livingston, proprietor of the Livingston Mercantile company of this city, one of the largest department stores in this part of the state, died suddenly today of apoplexy. He was a member of the firm by the same name that conducts stores in Wausau, Baraboo, Kankakee, Ill., and this city.

THE DAY WITH TEDDY

(By a Staff Correspondent of the United Press.)

CAIRO, Egypt, March 25.—Starting at an early hour this morning from the Mena house, Colonel Roosevelt and his family journeyed by camels and sand cars to Memphis, 12 miles southwest of Cairo, where the tombs of Sakkarra and the temple of Bulls are located.

The party was accompanied by Ambassador Oscar Straus and wife, Miss Iddings, Lawrence F. Abbott, President of the Outlook Company, and the newspaper correspondent.

TOWN IS BURNING

SALEM, Mass., March 25.—Word has been received here that Hamilton, Mass., is threatened by destruction by fire. Communication by wire has been cut off and at the telephone exchange it is said the whole town will probably be destroyed.

Hamilton was about 2,000 population. Beverly and Peabody are also sending fire apparatus as is Salem.

NO NANDAMUS FOR RAWLINSON

Judge Daniels Riled when Rawlinson Hesitates to Present Unpleasant Communication

Judge John A. Daniels today threatened to secure a writ of mandamus to compel County Clerk Charles H. Rawlinson to present a communication to the county board of supervisors at its meeting next Wednesday.

Judge Daniels claims Supervisor Emil Guenther fails to properly provide for his aged mother who is a dependent. Under the law children, when able are compelled to provide for their parents. This matter has come up many times before and is coming to be considered in some quarters as an effort to injure Supervisor Guenther politically.

Because of the unpleasant status of the case Clerk Rawlinson this morning informed Judge Daniels that he would not read the communication to the county board unless compelled to do so. The judge was considerably stirred up over the refusal and threatened to compel the clerk to read the resolution by a court order if necessary.

"I will leave it to the district attorney," said the county clerk this morning, "and if he decides it is my duty to read this communication, I will do so, but not otherwise. It is a very unpleasant matter for me to handle and I should much prefer Judge Daniels would have such cases presented to the county board through other channels."

Daniels Satisfied.

This afternoon Mr. Daniels said since dinner he has been informed Clerk Rawlinson has agreed to present the petition, and therefore he will not consider getting out a writ of mandamus. The petition asks the county board to get a court order from Judge Brindley compelling six children of Wilhelmina Guenther, aged 76, to take care of her. The children are Frank, Emil and Hugo Guenther, Hulda Dierlang and Selma Smith. Judge Daniels denies the Hauser controversy enters into the proceeding, except that Hauser once gave Mrs. Guenther $3 from county funds to pay her room rent.

BRIDE AND GROOM IN SUICIDE PACT

FAIRFIELD, Iowa, March 25.—Lying side by side, the dead bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Douglas McDonald of Chicago, bride and groom of six weeks, were found in Chautauqua park early today. They went alone on a moonlight picnic late yesterday and when they did not return the bride's parents started a search for them.

The death of the couple marks the end of a romantic marriage and a courtship, and is believed to have resulted from a suicide pact.

TAX CASE IS SET FOR APRIL 26TH

Attorneys interested in the tax controversy between the city and county, were this afternoon notified from Madison, that the state tax commission, which conducted the hearing here recently, has set the case for April 26th, when it is expected that a decision will be rendered. In the hearing here the county alleged more than five million of property in La Crosse escaped taxation.

BIG GUNS HIT IN PITTSBURG ROW

Men Named at Last who Solicited and Divided $102,500 of Bank Graft Money

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 25.—The grand jury investigating the councilmanic corruption today recommended that District Attorney Blakeley prepare for submission to the grand jury indictments against Charles Stewart, Wm. Brand and Hugh Ferguson, charging them with having received from six Pittsburgh banks $102,500 in connection with the passage of the bank depositories ordinance and with having conspired to bribe other councilmen. Thirty-one other new indictments were this afternoon recommended to be prepared against present and former city councilmen in a presentment submitted to the court by the grand jury. Fifty-six councilmen are mentioned, however, as being guilty of bribery according to evidence secured by the grand jury but because of confessions it is said no indictments were recommended to be returned against the remaining 25.

The Banks Implicated

The six banks named in the report are Farmers' Deposit National bank, Columbia National bank, Second National bank of Pittsburgh, German National bank of Pittsburgh, German National bank of Allegheny and the Workingmen's Savings and Trust company of Allegheny. The report alleges that each bank paid $17,500 with the exception of the last named, which paid $15,000.

The Loot "Cut Up"

The $102,500 was distributed substantially as follows, according to the grand jury report.

The first payment of $17,500 by the five banks was divided among the five men, that is to say: To Brand, $2,500; to Charles Stewart, $2,500; to John F. Klein, $2,500; to J. C. Wasson, $2,500; to Hugh Ferguson, $2,500.

Morris Einstein received $5,000 for soliciting and securing the bribe. Fifteen thousand dollars was given to John F. Klein to distribute among the members of the common council.

Four thousand dollars was divided among Brand, Stewart, Klein and Ferguson.

Eight thousand six hundred and fifty dollars was finally received by each of the five men, Brand, Stewart, Klein, Wasson and Ferguson.

One thousand dollars was given to two city clerks.

One thousand seven hundred and fifty dollars was set apart for newspaper reporters.

SEEK THE MAN IN THE CASE

TOLEDO, O., March 25.—The name of the alleged accomplice of Katherine Manz, who is held on the charge of murdering her sister Elizabeth at Massillon last Friday, is known to her brother, Joseph Manz of Toledo, through a confession to him during their last talk in the Stark county jail.

Manz says he will enlist the services of the authorities in an effort to locate the alleged accomplice, as he places every credence in his sister's confession.

TOWN OF TENTS NOW

MOUNT HOPE, W. Va., March 25.—Five hundred people continued homeless today as a result of a fire that wiped out the town yesterday. Tents provided by the state were utilized last night and today the population is seeking salvage from the ruins. The town will be rebuilt on a better plan at once.

CAPITALISTS SEE LA CROSSE TODAY

Tourists Interested in Water Power Company Inspect and Admire City in Auto Trip

La Crosse capital and Milwaukee capital junketed about La Crosse today, the former as host and the latter as guest, and the verdict of the visitors was complimentary to the Gateway City.

The visitors were under the personal conduct of J. J. Corkill, general manager of the Milwaukee office of the Trowbridge & Niver bonding house, whose customers most of them were. They came in a special car in which they have been touring the country viewing the various properties underwritten by the big firm, and the special object of their visit was to examine the La Crosse Water Power company's plants and the tributary cities upon which it must feed.

But that such an aggregation of influential capitalists should leave the city without being made advertising mediums for it was not contemplated by La Crosse business men, and when the party alighted from the train at the Northwestern depot six automobiles and a score of local capitalists were there to meet them. The cars were furnished, two by Joseph M. Hixon and one each by L. F. Easton, E. L. Colman, A. B. Moll, Thomas Lavake, J. W. Bryant, Frank Schwalbe, Carl Michel and John A. Salzer.

Among the visitors were the following Milwaukee bankers and investors: J. W. Baumgartner, Dr. Meyer, T. P. Wilbur, A. C. Pink, A. G. Schultz, Chas. G. Frank, L. Wicher, W. J. Blessing, A. J. Calkins, T. Corlin, A. J. Frame, Dr. H. G. Piggins, O. Marshall, A. H. Ebert.

The La Crosse members of the party were Dr. W. A. Anderson, W. J. Ferris, Joseph M. Hixon, Carl Michel, E. G. Boynton, L. F. Easton, C. F. White, John A. Salzer, E. L. Colman, C. S. Van Auker, P. M. Gelatt, J. W. Bryant, Jos. Skinner, T. A. Lavake, A. M. Brayton, H. P. Hirschheimer.

The party took a turn north past the Hirschheimer Plow Works, going thence to Listman Mill, the La Crosse Gas & Electric plant and the Can Company, out past the breweries, the high school, the normal and finally to the Country Club, where a photograph was taken. On the return trip the retail district was inspected, the party arriving at the depot just in time to catch their special.

WOULD AID LIBERIA

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 25.—President Taft transmitted to congress today the report of the Liberian committee which visited Africa a year ago. He approves the recommendations of the committee to the effect that the United States go to the rescue of the republic which is on the verge of dissolution as a result of the aggression of France and Great Britain through their colonies on either side.

ICE IS OUT OF LAKE PEPIN NOW

Yesterday morning the ice went out of Lake Pepin and the river was open from St. Paul to the gulf. Records show this is the earliest spring opening in recorded history and today a boat could run from the mouth to the headwaters of the river without encountering any ice.

FARMINGTON TO VOTE ON SPLIT ELECTION DAY

Township Too Big for Voters to Get to Polls, Says John H. Dahl of Burr Oak

DENIES "WETS" WANT IT

Prominent Resident Declares Liquor Question Has No Bearing on It; Petition Filed Here

John H. Dahl of Burr Oak, town of Farmington, is heading a movement for a division of that town into two townships for the reason, he says today, that the present town is the largest in the county and too large to permit all the voters to get out at election time. Mr. Dahl denied the liquor question had anything to do with the division.

"The township is too long," said Mr. Dahl this afternoon. "We have filed a petition to the county board of supervisors asking a division, and we will vote on it at the coming spring election. We propose that the dividing line be north and south, between sections 3 and 4. One of the towns thus created will be only a trifle larger than the other. If we carry the proposition at the polls we will have a polling place in each township and the voters can easily get out to the polls on all voting occasions."

It is stated by Mr. Dahl that he is not aware yet what the new town will be named. If it carries at the polls then the county board will be called upon to ratify the decision. It will also mean a new member of the county board of supervisors.

It is rumored that the motive of the proposed division is the contest in the township between the "wets" and the "drys." At present the township is dry, and it is reported that those favoring the division expect to be able to carry their town of the two new ones "for license," while the dry voters, living in the other section or new township, may do as they please. This is denied positively by Mr. Dahl today, who declares that the liquor question does not enter into the fight at all.

WILL RECOMMEND PARK FOUNTAIN

This afternoon the grounds and buildings committee of the county board met and decided to recommend a statue fountain for the court house park this spring. Several florists were present, offering suggestions on the program for beautifying the grounds surrounding the county buildings.

KLEEBER GETS NO REPLY FROM SCHOOL

County Coroner Kleeber has as yet received no reply from the state university medical school, to which he made application for the disposal of the body of Rud Suder, who was drowned in Black river Tuesday. He has received information from the employment agency at Chicago to the effect that they know nothing of his family or home.

If the cadaver is not sent to the medical school it will be interred here at the expense of the county.

CLERK CATCHES A THIEF IN THE ACT

This afternoon a couple of strangers in passing the Paulson Shoe company's store on Pearl street took a pair of shoes in front of the store and walked down to Third street. A clerk saw the theft and followed the men, who hid the shoes in the rear of the store. He then took charge of them and had them taken to the police station.

BLUEFIELDS EXCITED

BLUEFIELDS, via Wireless to Colon, March 25.—As the Madrid army advances toward Bluefields, destroying property in its path, excitement in the provisional capital grows more intense. All that averted a general exodus of Americans today was the news that the cruiser Tacoma has been ordered here to protect American property. The Americans believe that this means Madrid will not be able to capture the Estrada capital.

FIRE IN CHICAGO FATAL TO TWELVE OTHERS INJURED

Girl Leaps Eight Stories to Her Death as Flames Cut Off Her Escape

CHICAGO, March 25.—Twelve persons were burned to death and a number of others were injured, none fatally, in a fire today which destroyed a six story building occupied by L. Fish and Company, furniture dealers, at 19th and Wabash Avenue.

While there are many rumors that the death list may mount up to 15 or 20 Fire Chief Horan declared at 1 p. m. that he believed all the dead had been recovered. At that hour the building had been entirely destroyed and nothing was left standing but the four walls.

Eleven bodies have been recovered from the ruins and one victim, Miss Ethel Finkelstein, died after she had plunged six stories in an effort to escape the flames. The dead are:

Ethel Finkelstein, 16; Veronica McGrath, Mrs. Hannah Burden, forelady; Rose Bruche, 17, stenographer; Gertrude Quinn, 20, private secretary of Simon Fish; Lillian Sullivan; Minor Bell, advertising manager; Herbert M. Mitchell, brother-in-law of Simon Fish; Bert Sinclair, clerk; Wm. Green, porter; Ethel Anderson, stenographer; Mary Wargo, assessor.

The most seriously injured: Dr. Wm. Kinsley, badly burned about hands and face; John Schmidt, Wm. Peterson, M. D. Geiner and Isaac Fish.

The dead victims were all caught like rats in a trap on the sixth floor and were burned to death before they had a chance to escape.

A Terrible Story

The assistant fire chief says: "When I reached the scene," he said, "the upper floors of the building were a mass of flames. Hanging out of the windows on the sixth floor were five or six girls screaming for help."

"For God's sake help us," they cried. I ran into the building and got as far as the third floor before the fire drove me out.

"As I came into the street again I saw the Finkelstein girl throw up her hands and cry 'Look out' and the next moment she plunged headlong down from the sixth floor. She struck the glass canopy over the front entrance and her body became lodged. When we picked her up her face was terribly burned and her body badly torn and cut."

"By the time the firemen got their ladders against the front of the building it was too late and the escape of the people on the sixth floor was cut off."

Two Escape

Isaac Fish a member of the firm who had a narrow escape says the automatic elevator doors in the building closed shortly after the fire started. M. D. Geiner and Fish himself pried open the door and slid down the elevator cable to the main floor mangle their hands but sustaining no other injuries.

Boy Started It

The fire started when a boy employed in a cigar concern on the fifth floor attempted to fill a cigar lighter with alcohol. He set fire to half a pint of alcohol and the flame immediately spread throughout the building.

not know what to do with it. They do not know the meaning of these statutes until they have finally interpreted by the highest courts. The judges themselves receive continual surprises as their attention is called to the existence of laws of which they had never heard. This is the condition in New York state, and it is very little different elsewhere.

"There is a large section of the public which believes that anything can be cured by passing a law. The belief is crude and has been confirmed by experience over and over again. But it is from this class that our legislators are drawn. The politician depends upon popularity for his job, and as long as the majority of the people think this way, he is prepared to give them all the statutes they choose to demand. The result is so much legislation that nobody knows where he stands,
while the assumption that no citizen can plead ignorance of the law, becomes more preposterous than ever.

"How many years must elapse before we develop a public opinion which will recognize how small a percentage of human ills legislation can ever alleviate, and how great an amount of mischief has been devised by legislation can cause? As our state and Federal statute books stand at present, we could well afford to devote almost exclusively the time of the state legislatures and Congress for the next ten years to repealing useless and dangerous statutes. The overproduction of laws has ceased to be a farce. It has become a dangerous nuisance."

The assertion of The Journal that promiscuous law making for political effect is bound to lead to unnecessary and faulty legislation is sound, and still it is possible that the statement is too general. Law making is essential; it is only the making of bad or unnecessary or conflicting laws that leads to evil.

The laws made in Wisconsin during the past ten years have had a "political effect," and perhaps what was "good politics" may have entered, as an element, into their making. But they were, for the most part, laws that were needed. Indeed, so surely are they their own defense that quite generally enemies
of the legislation profess to favor it, hiding behind the "personality" of the man responsible for the statutes.

That congress has made many laws for which there was no call, we freely admit. However, there is a chance for congress to pass some laws the enactment of which has been pledged to the public, and the only adverse criticism that could be made of these laws would have to be that they "were for political effect." This is a charge easy to make, for in a land of intelligent folk good laws are approved by voters, hence even though that be a secondary consideration, or no consideration at all, good laws ARE good politics.

The politicians are all trying to study out what the election by 5,000 votes of Mr. Foss, democrat for congress, in a Massachusetts district which two years ago gave a republican 14,000, means. Having accepted the issues upon which his campaign was worked out, and having been somewhat mixed up in the fray, Mr.
Foss himself should be a fair judge of what elected him. And if Mr.
Foss is not mistaken, it was opposition to the Aldrich tariff bill and resentment of the at least partially resulting high cost of living, that elected him. So sure of this is he that he says publicly he is going to be an insurgent in congress.

And right in the face of this the lower house has selected a standpat committee on rules, while the just now bespoken "Uncle Joe" Cannon is jangling it mightily.

Meanwhile Pinchot and Straus are cabled to hasten to meet Theodore Roosevelt—these two progressives whom Mr. Taft has cast out.

Will they never learn? Must the brick house tumble first? Will these plumed knights of monopoly drag the grand old party to ruin under the whip of Aldrich, whom the president has playfully called "the manager of the United States," and of a grand old party by the name of Cannon?

It was doubtless indiscreet in Theodore Roosevelt to speak freely of political affairs in the far east in a way to displease a people rebellious against foreign government. It matters not that this government is good,

The Cheapest and Best

If you really want—and of

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling usually indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. Too frequent desire to urinate, scanty supply, pain or dull ache in the back, should also convince you that the kidneys or bladder are out of order.

What to Do
There is comfort in the knowledge
so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, fulfills almost every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold urine, and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate.

The mild, pleasant and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful results in the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine, you should have the best.
Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, and a book that tells all about it, both sent absolutely free by mail.
Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing be sure to mention that you read this generous offer in the La Crosse Daily Tribune. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

If it is good; it matters not that these people are unfit to rule themselves.
The fact remains that so displeased are the natives that skillful murder has been done and repeated in the name of their hostility to English rule.

And in the face of this Col. Roosevelt says they should aid, not fight the British government. It was daring; it may have been true. But it was as perilous as it was like the former president to speak his mind.
It was also like him to insist in stalking about unguarded, a huge target for the assassin's bullet. He needs a guardian, and the people at home who love him are thankful to our English cousins for having become his guardian angel in blue and brass.

One of the biggest jokers ever sprung is that in which the federal government has turned the contempt ruling intended to imprison Samuel Gompers and other labor leaders for violation of an injunction, against the indicted packers. These men doubtless upheld Judge Wright's decision against Gompers as a tower of righteousness. But now that it is learned that they, too, have violated
a federal injunction, and that therefore the court may hold them in the same light as it holds Gompers et al., they may be depended upon to experience a change of sentiment.

SPOTLIGHTS

MOOSE NIGHT TONIGHT

The local order of Moose have secured a large number of seats and will attend the La Crosse theater tonight to witness the Elwin Strong company present "Dr. Jekyll and Mr.
Hyde."

THE HEART OF ALASKA

The northwest is coming into unrivalled popularity as the locale of the outdoor play of action and atmosphere. Its broad sweep of country lends itself to the rugged melodramatic stories of primal passion, of sacrifice of picturesque intrigue. Not the least interesting of the series is "The Heart of Alaska,"
in which Henry Carey, the author of the play, will appear at the La Crosse Theater Wednesday, March 30. Never straying far from familiar haunts, it has a well-knit story and is staged with remarkable fidelity.

The company is an unusually capable one. Mr. Carey plays the hero with evident sincerity. Louis Thiel contributes a humorous drawing of the bluff, good-hearted partner, and Frederick Seaton scores heavily as the Chilkat. Joseph Harris makes much of the showy part of Francois, and Russell Simpson adds an excellent portrait as the storekeeper. Fern Foster is girlishly appealing and convincing as Alaska, and Lucy Milliken does telling work, especially in the third act,
as the wife.

The play is beautifully staged,
hundreds of touches giving atmospheric depths to the scene. Wonderfully good is the cabin scene, with the deep fire place and the few rough tables and chairs, plainly fashioned by the owners.

AL WILSON COMING

The following editorial review is from the Toledo Daily Blade:
"It takes the Irish to beat the Dutch—sometimes. Here's a case of where a Dutchman gets back at the Irish and beats them at their own game. Al H. Wilson, the rollicking, roddling German comedian, has invaded the field of Fisk O'Hara, Andrew Mack, Chauncey Olcott, Joe Murphy and the other knickerbocker comedians and singers, and is warbling the old Irish airs while the colleens keep step with their twinkling feet. Wilson, who will be at the Lyceum all week, played to two big houses yesterday, and he pleased his hearers so well that he was called upon for a curtain speech."

THE MAJESTIC

"The Quaker City Quartet" scored another big hit at the Majestic theater last night by their excellent singing and realistic scenery. This well known quartet came here directly from the east and is considered one of the best in the country today.
Many are the flattering press notices that they have received on their tours.

The act carries with it special scenery of the best kind, depicting a blacksmith shop of the open air variety in the rear of a typical eastern home. Stretching away in the distance are two hills with trees adding much to the picturesqueness of the scene. The curtain rises with the three men working at the forge with a heated horse shoe.

The members of the quartet have well balanced and harmonious voices giving a pleasing effect. They render several well known opera-numbers which are always encored.
One of their novel features is the imitation of a church organ, which is decidedly clever.

The rest of the acts are continuing to please the large audiences which are to be seen at the theater
every evening.

Next week's bill will undoubtedly eclipse anything that has ever been offered outside of the larger cities in the vaudeville line. A special announcement of the program with short descriptions of the acts will be given in The Tribune tomorrow evening.

Manager Koppelberger left yesterday for Chicago, where he is making a business trip in connection with the booking of several large vaudeville acts which will also be announced later.

WHY YOU ARE THIN; HOW TO GET FLESHY

Discusses Causes of Thinness and Gives New Method of Increasing Weight and Rounding Out the Form.

Prescription Accomplishes Wonders

A treatment which anyone can prepare cheaply at home, has been found to increase the weight, improve the health, round out scrawny figures, improve the bust, brighten the eyes
and put new color into the cheeks and lips of anyone who is too thin and bloodless. It puts flesh on those who have been always thin whether from disease or natural tendency on those who by heavy eating and diet have in vain tried to increase; on those who feel well but can't get fat;
and on those who have tried every known method in vain. It is a powerful aid to digestion, nutrition and assimilation. It assists the blood and nerves to distribute all over the body the flesh elements contained in food, and gives the thin person the same absorbing qualities possessed by the naturally fleshy.

Everybody is about the same, but certain elements and organs of blood and nerves are deficient and until this is corrected, thin people will stay thin. The nutrition stays in the body after separation by the digestive functions instead of passing through unused, when this valuable treatment of blended medicines is used. Practically no one can remain thin who uses it, for it supplies the long felt need.

Mix in a half pint bottle, three ounces of essence of pepsin, and three ounces of syrup of rhubarb. Then add one ounce compound essence cardiol, Shake and let stand two hours. Then add one ounce of tincture cadomene compound (not cardamom). Shake well and take a teaspoonful before and after meals. Drink plenty of water between meals and when retiring.
Weigh before beginning.

The Gates of Summer
Dey is slowly pushin' open—
Dem gates to summer time!
Dis old world is a-gropin'—
Whah de honeysuckles climb,
And dese yaller blossoms tender,
Like little gilded stars,
Is glimpses of de splendor
While we's peekin' through de

An Abuse
Francis Wilson, the comedian, said at a dinner in New York, a propos
of the law that forbade the performance of his play, "The Bachelor's Baby":
"The law against child labor is an excellent one, but it is an abuse of this law to forbid children, properly protected, to appear on the stage."
"The best of things are open to abuse, you know. Even prayer meetings."

Mr. Wilson smiled.
"William Spargus," he resumed,
"rose in prayer meeting one night
and said he desired to tell the dear friends present of the great change of heart that had come over him, so that he now forgave, fully and freely, Deason Jones for the horse he had sold him."

"Deason Jones was too shocked at first to reply. He soon recovered himself, however, and he rose in his pew
and said:

"I am indeed glad, dear Christian friends, to have gained Brother William Spargus' forgiveness, but, all the same, he ain't paid me for the hoss yet."

A Religious Ashman
The ashman was raising a can of ashes above his head to dump the contents into his cart, when the bottom of the can came out. Ethel saw it and ran in and told her mother.
"I hope you didn't listen to what he said," the mother remarked.
"He didn't say a word to me," replied the little girl; "he just walked off by the side of his cart talking to God."—Everybody's Magazine.

Useful Charity

ties," said one woman.
"Yes," answered the other; "liberal, but not always practical. For instance, she wanted to send alarm clocks to Africa to aid sufferers from the sleeping sickness."—Washington Star.

People are Different
Chief Justice Taney, draving
through the Tennessee mountains, once broke one of the shafts of his buggy. A small colored boy came riding by on a mule. The justice hailed him. "Here, my boy," he said, "can you help me fix my buggy?" "Sure, boss," answered the boy, and cutting a hickory withe, he soon fixed the shaft, so that it was quite serviceable.
"Well, well," said the learned judge,
"now why couldn't I have done that?" "I dunno, boss," replied his
"first aid," "unless some folks know more than others."—Success Magazine.

Looked Suspicious
A reputable citizen had left four umbrellas to be repaired. At noon
he had luncheon in a restaurant, and as he was departing he absentmindedly started to take an umbrella from a hook near his seat.
"That's mine, sir," said a woman at the next table.

He apologized and went out.
When he was going home in a street car with his four repaired umbrellas, the woman he had seen in the restaurant got in. She glanced from him to his umbrellas and said:

"I see you had a good day."—

Out at First

The hammock was built for two,
but she was occupying it alone.
"I have noticed," said the man on the porch chair, "that the prettiest joined the fair maiden. "I appreciate your friendship, but I can never

A Little Matter of Pronunciation
The mother of the girl baby, herself named Rachel, frankly told her husband that she was tired of the good old names borne by most of the feminine members of the family,
and she would like to give the little girl a name entirely different.

Then she wrote on a slip of paper
"Eugenie," and asked her husband
if he didn't think that was a pretty name.
The father studied the name for a moment and then said:

"Well, call her Yousheenie, but I

"Mr. Waddy," said Theodore, walking up to him and looking him in the face, "before accepting your fulfill my part of it. I must install the motors in the aeroplane. There are some financial arrangements to be made. It may be some weeks—"

"I'll let yeh have what money

Theodore grasped the old man's hands, his face flushed with joy.
"I accept your advances with pleasure," said he. "And within sixty days I shall be here with the

"As certain," said Craighead, "as the world turns over sixty times on

As they took their departure, Mrs.
Graybill drew them aside as for a private conference.

"Mr. Carson," said she, "do you know that papa is a dreadfully good business man?"

"I am quite sure of it," said Carson.

"Do you think that you and Mr.
Craighead are quite able to cope with him where business is busi-

"Fear not," said Craighead, "Col-

Mrs. Graybill laughed merrily.

"I had that in mind," said she.
"I believe in you, Mr. Carson. I be-

"Mrs. Graybill," said Theodore,
"we can do no better in these days

"That was a great hit you made

"You're a wonder, Sir Theodore. I didn't think you had it in you."

DECIDE AGAINST PERSONAL TAX

Members of Franklin Club Unanimous in Saying that There Should Be None

Instead of holding a regular debate last night the Franklin club participated in a general discussion of the question. "Resolved, that there should be no tax on personal property." There were about a dozen members present and each one spoke on the topic, most of them being opposed to the tax. The members were instructed to vote on the question from the merits of the arguments and a unanimous decision in favor of having no tax on personal property was reached.

A LITTLE THING Changes the Home Feeling

Coffee blots out the sunshine from many a home by making the mother, or some other member of the household, dyspeptic, nervous and irritable. There are thousands of cases where the proof is absolutely undeniable. Here is one.

A Wis. mother writes: "I was taught to drink coffee at an early age, and also at an early age became a victim to headaches, and as I grew to womanhood these headaches became a part of me, as I was scarcely ever free from them. About five years ago a friend urged me to try Postum. I made the trial and the result was so satisfactory that we have used it ever since."

"My husband and little daughter were subject to bilious attacks, but they have been entirely free from them since we began using Postum instead of coffee. I no longer have headaches and my health is perfect."

If some of these nervous, tired, irritable women would only leave off coffee absolutely and try Postum they would find a wonderful change in their life. It would then be filled with sunshine and happiness rather than weariness and discontent. And think what an effect it would have on the family, for the mood of the mother is largely responsible for the temper of the children.

S. M. TRAIN WILL NOT BE RESTORED

Superintendent E. G. Perkins of the Division Says
He Has No Orders
to Do So

Superintendent E. G. Perkins of the Southern Minnesota division of the Milwaukee road, who returned last night from an inspection trip over the division, today said in a short interview that he had received no orders from the general offices of the system at Chicago to restore the night passenger train west of Jackson, Minn. Reports emanating from that section of the state of Minnesota recently were to the effect that the train which was abandoned some time ago would again be restored to the service April 1.

At the time Superintendent Perkins was out of the city and the report could not be verified. This matter is regulated at the Chicago offices of the road. It is the opinion of the officials in this city that the train has been permanently abandoned.

WEST SALEM, WIS.

John Pittinger, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John McKinley, Tuesday, March 15th, and was buried Thursday at two o'clock. He had been ailing all fall with Bright's disease and for the past three weeks had been confined to his bed. He was eighty-three years of age. He leaves a wife and two daughters, Mrs. John McKinley of West Salem, and Mrs. Lillian Aiken, who teaches school in Onalaska.

Last Wednesday about noon Mrs. R. McKinley had the misfortune to fracture her hip in a fall caused by a fainting spell. She started to cross the room and became faint and in falling her limb was thrown under the weight of her body and broken at the hip. She is along in years and in very poor health so it makes the accident quite a serious one.

The high school gave a party at Knudson's hall on Friday evening. Dancing was indulged in and refreshments served.

MILWAUKEE ISSUES FIRE WARNINGS

Bulletins have been issued to the engineers and firemen on the Milwaukee system here to exercise the most precaution with the new appliances for dumping ashes from the engines, automatically. A careful perusal by the operating officials of the cause of bridge fires during the last year, show that the majority of them are due to ashes from engines being scattered along the woodwork of the bridges.

The new appliances which work automatically, dump the ashes out of the engine, along the roadbed of the lines and engineers on the Milwaukee have been specially warned to exercise care in the process.

Many a poor devil has been sacrificed in the making of a cook book.

The fluid has been down to 11c here, and at other times has been much higher than at present.

JOHNSON MAY BE SUDDENLY CALLED

NEW YORK, March 25.—Jack Johnson still faces the probability of peremptory summons from any part of the country in which he may be to stand trial on the charge of assaulting Norman Pindar, the diminutive negro complainant, whose sudden disappearance on the eve of the trial Wednesday resulted in raising the pugilist's bail from $1,500 to $5,000. Johnson obtained the new bond.

FARMERS GET A CENSUS LETTER

They Are Expected to Inform Themselves Upon what will Be Asked, Says Winter

Farmers throughout the census district in western Wisconsin in charge of Supervisor of Census Frank Winter of this city, will, according to announcement today, receive within a few days through the mails copies of a small pamphlet setting forth in detail the questions which they will be called upon to answer when the national census is taken next month. The government expects the farm census this year to be the most comprehensive ever gathered and is working early to prepare the way for the enumerators who will canvass the rural districts.

Information Asked

The pamphlet states that every farmer shall give his name, country of his birth and the general information required of residents in cities. In addition the enumerators' questions shall call for tenure of the farm, acreage, acreage of woodland and character of timber thereon, value of farm implements, number and value of livestock owned, value of domestic animals not on farms and ranges, acreage of crops planted and to be planted during 1910, and the acreage of crops and the quantity and value of crops and other farm products for the year ending December 31, 1909.

GATES BENEFIT TO BE GIVEN APRIL 8

The benefit performance for the children of Perry Gates which Manager Koppelerberger of the new Majestic theater recently volunteered to give, will be held on the evening of April 8th. It will be the regular performance and the prices will be twenty and thirty cents. Twenty-five per cent of the receipts will be presented to the trustee of the Gates fund.

Great interest in the event is being shown and it is expected that the performance will play to a packed house.

WAKEFIELD BUILDS CATAMARAN BOAT

Trempealeau Man in the City Describes New Boat He will Launch

J. A. Wakefield of Trempealeau is building a catamaran type of boat, which he expects to do great service as a pleasure craft at Trempealeau, according to E. H. Cleveland of that city who was in La Crosse yesterday.

Mr. Wakefield's boat will differ somewhat from the usual catamaran type. It will be in reality one hull, split in the middle and boarded up to make two hulls. He will plank both over, leaving open water beneath. On this platform he will place his engine, the propeller therefore having no impediment in front of it. Good speed for small power is his expectation. He expects to build the craft large enough so that passengers can be carried on both hulls and on the central platform.

ALL ENUMERATORS BUT 12 SELECTED

Supervisor of Census Frank Winter Says He Is Far Ahead of Most of the Districts

Supervisor of Enumerators Frank Winter of this census district, including counties in the western district of Wisconsin, announces that he has had all but 12 of 178 of his recommendations for census enumerators approved by the census department at Washington. He is expecting approval of the remaining dozen within a few days, and he will then be ready to start the enumeration which begins the middle of next month.

Mr. Winter says that he is far ahead of most of the census districts throughout the country, and that in many instances much greater difficulty is being experienced in securing satisfactory enumerators. The list of approved enumerators up to date, has been heretofore published in The Tribune.

HOTEL PROPERTY IS SOLD AT READSTOWN

LA FARGE, Wis., March 25.—Chas. H. Edwards has sold the Ward hotel property of this place to Jas. Lamb of Janesville. Mr. Lamb will take possession April 1st. During the two years that Mr. and Mrs. Edwards have been managing this property they have succeeded in building up a very enviable business, their hotel being one of the best known hostleries in the Kickapoo Valley. They will engage in the hotel business in another field. The present excellent condition of the property speaks success for the new proprietor. The monetary consideration was $10,000.

JOY RIDE ENDS IN DEATH OF ARTIST

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 24.—Jacob Mueller, deputy sheriff of St. Louis county, is supposed to be dead. B. F. McCool, a chauffeur, is missing, and three other men are in a serious condition in this city as the result of a disastrous end to an automobile ride here early yesterday. The automobile crashed into the railing of a bridge.

The loss sustained will be about fifty dollars.

Indigestion Remedy Free

To any victim of indigestion the offer is made that if he or she will send name and address, a free sample of a remedy that is daily curing indigestion will be sent. This remedy is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Instead of taking the advice of your friends, or using lozenges, peppermints and such things, write for this free sample and see what that will do for you. There is no remedy that has been more successful in the cure of indigestion, sick headache, heartburn, etc., than this grand laxative tonic, because instead of being simply a breath perfume it goes to the root of the trouble, which is poor bowel movement, and cures that. Once the bowels are relieved the stomach has a better chance to do its work. Thousands in the past have accepted the offer of a free sample and later become steady users of Syrup Pepsin. All that Dr. Caldwell desires is that you allow him to prove to you, at his own expense, that his remedy will do as claimed. When you have used the sample and are convinced, you can buy a further supply of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as others are doing who once sent for a free sample. You will learn to abandon "dyspepsia cures" for indigestion and cathartic pills and salts for constipation, for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a permanent cure, while these are but temporary reliefs. Here is a mild, pleasant, non-gripping remedy that can be given to a child with perfect safety. In fact, it is especially adapted to children's ills. Read the many letters of recommendation that users have written for Syrup Pepsin, then try it yourself and you will see that these claims are justified. Thousands of the best American families have Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin constantly in the house.

Use Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

Your letter and sample at hand. Thought I would answer and tell you that it is the thing I have been looking for. I find it to be the best medicine I have ever used. I am going to get my third bottle this week as I would not be without it. I give it to my children all the time and it acts like magic, and will never be without it. I am thankful to you for it.—MRS. CARL OLSON IN SERIOUS WRECK

Tells of His Experience
while Traveling in Iowa
in which Train Is Overturned

While riding in a coach on a train in Iowa Carl Olson, the well known La Crosse actor, who takes the leading part with the Primrose "Prince of Sweden" company, had a narrow escape from being killed, but after being rolled down a ten-foot embankment, he crawled out of the wrecked car and was able to appear on the stage the same night.

In an interesting letter dated at Ponca, Neb., and written to a friend in this city Mr. Olson says: "Our train was wrecked and piled up in all imaginable shapes early Sunday morning and when I think of the affair I shudder. Just before daylight, as we were pulling into a little station near Sioux City, called Merrill, Iowa, a flat wheel on the mail car jumped the track and plowed its way about ten rods until it struck a string of box cars on a siding. The mail car was smashed to kindling wood and how the two clerks escaped instant death only God knows. Not a scratch did they get, but of course they were greatly shocked."

"I had just put my head on my grip and overcoat to sleep, when our car jumped the track and slid down a ten-foot embankment. I was on the lower side and that is probably what saved me. When we struck bottom the windows were shattered and the vestibule and steps cut off clean as a knife or an axe could do it. The ladies' coach fell across the track but remained right side up, so the passengers were unhurt save a few bumps. When I managed to crawl to the door and feel of myself to see if I was all together, I ran toward the ladies' coach but they were already out so I went around in front and what I saw made my hair stand on end. The tender and the tank had been broken from the cab of the engine and turned completely over and the baggage car was on top of it. The fact that the train was slowing down for the station is all that saved the lives of the passengers, as we were running only about 15 miles an hour at the time of the wreck. Grout was the only one hurt, wrenching his knee on a seat. The fireman was in the act of shoveling coal on the tender when it started to go over. He realized his danger and with shovel in his hand, he jumped and landed safely in the cab. Outside of a few bumps we are all right and ready for the big show tonight. I spent Sunday with "Skinny" Langstadt in Sioux City."

How to Prevent Gray Hair

When gray hairs first begin to appear, prompt action should be taken to nourish the scalp and prevent their further spread. Regular brushing, massage of the scalp and occasional shampooing help to prolong the vitality of the hair and preserve its natural color. But it is absolutely essential that these methods be assisted with some form of vital nourishment which the decaying roots of the hair can absorb. Numerous preparations for this purpose have appeared on the market during the past twenty years, but many of them have proved more harmful than otherwise. It is now agreed by competent authorities and those who have put it to the severest test that HAY'S HAIR HEALTH is the safest and most effective preparation for restoring prematurely gray hair, and furnishing the right food to the scalp. Its constantly increasing sale and the fact that it has held its great popularity for nearly a quarter of a century is proof that this scientific preparation does the work to the entire satisfaction of users. All reliable druggists recommend it and sell it in 50 cent and dollar bottles, or it can be purchased from the manufacturer, Philo Hay Specialties Co., Newark, N. J., U. S. A. Hoeschler Bros.

GREAT INDUSTRY MAKING RUBBERS

Board of Trade Committees
Visit North Side Plant
as Guests of the Management

BUSINESS RAPIDLY GROWING

Interesting Description of How Footwear Is Being Turned Out in Large Numbers

Two board of trade committees "rubbered" at the La Crosse Rubber Mills yesterday, and it is no stretch of fact to say the visitors were astonished at the capacity and importance of this great industrial plant where 300 employees are turning out 5,000 pairs of rubber footwear daily.

The junket was the first of the series of visits to local factories planned by President Doerflinger of the board of trade, and the visitors comprised the members of the manufacturing and advertising committees under the chaperonage of President Doerflinger and Secretary John Urmoehl. The committeemen present were:

Manufacturing committee: E. M. Wing, Adam Kroner, William Funk, Frank Sisson, Harry Long.

Advertising committee: A. Candlish, Geo. Frederick, Gus Kellar, A. M. Brayton.

A. Hirschheimer and Albert P. Funk, respectively president and vice president of the Rubber Mills company, joined the automobile party in the trip to the factory, and the party was received by General Manager M. C. Clark, Sales Manager C. M. Linthicum and Arthur Funk, who showed the visitors through the plant and capped the climax of hospitality by passing the cigars at the conclusion of the inspection.

To draw a pen picture of a big manufacturing plant in operation is a difficult task, and the following description will have done all that is attempted if it gives the reader a general idea of the process of rubber shoe making from the crude rubber to the finished product, together with an accurate impression of the magnitude and importance of the industry.

Plan of Economy
The plan of operations employed is an economical one, the development of the product following a complete circuit of the factory without long carries or unnecessary handling. The evolution of this feature has resulted in a decrease of from 3 to 10 per cent in the cost of production within the past year and a half.

The buildings are gathered in parallelogram formation, and the party began its inspection at the coal bins at the northeast corner, entering the boiler rooms and thence the engine room, where a 150 H. P. Westinghouse engine now under construction, added to the Allis 250 H. P. now in operation will give the concern a total of 400 H. P.

At this point it was noted that the factory produces its own electricity, by which in addition to lighting, over 100 sewing machines and other machinery are operated.

The Crude Material
The first exhibit was the crude rubber. This comes from various areas of production—South America, Central America, Mexico and Africa—but the Para rubber, which comes in so-called "biscuits," is a Brazilian product costing $2.50 per pound.

The crushing or mangling of the rubber, followed by washing and drying, is an important process. The work is all done under heat, the temperature of the machinery being such as to keep the stock in a plastic condition. When reduced to the proper condition the various ingredients are apportioned by weight in a weighing room, after which they go to the mixing room, and here the various grades and qualities of rubber goods are produced. Drying is now done in a heated vacuum, and in two hours results that formerly required three weeks are produced.

Other Processes Necessary
The next step is the evolution of the finished sheets of rubber, which is done by passing it under great pressure through large calanders which turn it out as desired. The sheets are printed, either for ornamentation or utility, by these machines, various calanders turning out everything from smooth plain rubber sheets to the imprinted heavy material for soles.

Next the product goes down to the cutters, where it is shaped into the several parts of the many classes and styles of footwear, and from here it enters the assembling room, a great space upon one side of which scores of women make up the light gum rubbers and usual city footwear, while on the opposite side an army of men assemble and finish the boots and heavier goods.

The next step is the varnishing, which is mostly done by machinery, a new invention that has greatly reduced the labor involved.

The last step is the vulcanizing of the shoes, and it is highly important. They are subjected to 260 degrees of heat, but this must be applied very gradually. This completed, the goods are ready for the packing and shipping rooms, each pair being inspected as to its perfection before packing.

The cloth work—linings and filler for soles, is mostly done in a great sewing room in which 100 sewing machines of various sorts are in operation, driven by electric current. This product goes together with the rubber, as described above, into the assembling department.

It was interesting to notice how completely waste is avoided. Cloth

Business is Growing
The prediction that this factory, which started the season with 25 salesmen and is running full capacity, will within two years have an output of 2,000,000 pair of shoes a year seems likely of fulfillment. Orders for more than half the year's product are already taken.

As Manager Clark and his associates were "speeding the parting guests," President Doerflinger announced that in two weeks a junket to the plant of the La Crosse Can company will be undertaken.

ONLY ONE AGENCY

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 25.—The house has voted down an amendment to the pension bill, providing for maintenance of the present 18 separate pension agencies. As the house bill now stands, there is to be only one central agency in Washington.

FLUID TO KILL QUACK GRASS

J. E. Egan Discovers Solution by Accident, which will Do Away with Disastrous Growth

J. E. Egan of the Egan Manufacturing company has discovered a fluid which he claims will do away with the quack grass, a weed which is depreciating the value of much of the Minnesota farm land from about $1.00 to $10 an acre.

Mr. Egan makes the startling announcement that the discovery was purely accidental. Last year, while experimenting with a potato bug exterminator, he threw the liquid into his rear yard, being disgusted with the results that he obtained. Some time after, he discovered that the quack grass had entirely disappeared and thinking that it might be due to the liquid that he had thrown upon it, he continued his experiments until a solution was perfected, which, he now claims is of such a nature that it will thoroughly eliminate the evil.

Mr. Egan has just returned from Minnesota where he conducted many experiments with his discovery, being well satisfied with the results obtained. He states that the work of exterminating this grass can be done for about $4 or $5 an acre.

PREDATORY GIRL RUINS HIS MONEY

CHICAGO, March 25.—Whether Elizabeth Fritz, a youthful Judith from Austria-Hungary, cast a malign fascination over the late Frederick Schramm of Chicago, which led him to will her his entire estate, estimated at $100,000, and to cut off his relatives without a cent is the question before the circuit court yesterday.

The attorney for the relatives described Fritz, the defendant, as "one of those women who are shaped and fashioned to make men fond and foolish, a brunette with sloe eyes, like a Gypsy, voluptuous of figure, a regular tigress, quite magnetic and dramatic."

Elizabeth Fritz entered the home of Frederick Schramm at the sunset of his life but within five weeks he had married her. Four days later he died, leaving to his young bride his fortune.

She took the money and fled to Europe but the fascination of America proved too much for her and in 1908 she returned and married a handsome young brakeman at Crown Point, Ind. The relatives of Schramm, hearing of her whereabouts, are now seeking to regain the lost fortune.

BANGOR, WIS.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gerletti of Bangor, Wis., spent Sunday in the village with relatives and friends.

Mrs. F. H. Wiles entertained some friends at her home Friday afternoon. Various guessing contests were indulged in, after which supper was served. Mrs. F. P. Roberts won the head prize in the contest and Mrs. O. W. Jones the booby prize.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. Baebler, Mrs. V. Stevens, and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wettstein were called to St. Paul Sunday by the death of Mrs. Jacob

Leuzinger. Mrs. Leuzinger is a sister of Mrs. V. Stevens, Mrs. Wettstein and Mr. Baebler. She had been ill for some time and her death was mostly due to old age. The funeral services were held at St. Paul Tuesday morning and interment was made in the cemetery at Montrose, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hussa and Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Hussa attended the funeral of Mrs. Henry Soupe at La Crosse Sunday. Mrs. Soupe was formerly a resident of this village, and her many friends here are sorry to hear of her death.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Moering of Sparta, spent Saturday and Sunday with the latter's mother, Mrs. Margaret Myer.

Misses Rae Stevens and Mary Mischowsky spent several days at La Crosse last week.

Miss Elsie Welker of Sparta spent Sunday at the W. H. Preston home.

Mrs. A. Mengel is the guest of relatives at Milwaukee.

Miss Myrtle Peck was a La Crosse passenger on Saturday.

Miss Grace Tower of West Salem was a visitor in the village on Saturday.

Rev. I. Hulbert occupied the pulpit at the Baptist church Sunday morning and evening.

John Kirchner will move the last of this month into the Griff Jones property.

Mrs. George Palmer of Minneapolis is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson.

The ladies of the Baptist congregation will hold their bazaar at Wilkie's hall Saturday, March 26. Many useful and pretty articles can be seen at the various booths. A dinner will also be served.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wolf entertained some of their friends at 500 on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Mischowsky and baby of Middle Ridge spent Monday with the former's parents.

Mrs. John Brand is confined to her home by illness.

Roger Jones of Trempealeau was a visitor in our village Monday.

Miss Mary Mischowsky entertained a few of her friends at a spread Tuesday evening.

Mrs. John Crandall of Madison is a guest at the Jos. Stintz home.

Manager J. Kaepler of the local office of the Western Union Telegraph company says that a wrong impression of the company's night letter service has gone out. An article recently published stated that the Western Union mailed the night letters at their destination, while the Postal delivered them by boys.

Kaepler says his company also delivers by messenger, and that the option of mailing them is set aside by both companies to be used only in case of emergency or congestion.

HIGHS WIN THE CHAMPIONSHIP

Defeat the Normal School Five by the Decisive Score of 35 to 16 Last Night

By defeating the Normal School basketball team 35 to 16, the high school five won the city championship last night. The game was played in the normal gymnasium, and was fast and furious.

At no time, however, was the outcome in doubt, as the highs started right and kept a safe lead during the entire contest. After a little delay in getting started, Captain Bradish began the scoring by throwing a field goal, and from then, the highs had little difficulty in scoring.

Although the high school team played with two sub forwards, they worked well, and showed that they completely outclass their opponents in all departments of the game. Captain Bradish played a star game for the high school team, making four field and five foul baskets, in addition to which he was all over the floor and had his man running after him all the time.

The first half was well played and close, the score at the end being 14 to 6 in the highs' favor. During this time, the highs were playing fine ball and were able to keep a safe lead all the time. The second half was a repetition of the first, in that the normal boys were completely outplayed, and when the final whistle blew, the score stood, high school, 23; normal, 16.

Juniors Win Too
A preliminary game between the advanced juniors of the high school and the second normal team resulted 20 to 22 in favor of the former. Lineup of Normal and High School teams:

High school—Forwards, T. Chamberlain, C. Hyde, I. Tiedeman and N. Moll; center, R. Keeler; guards, R. Bradish and F. Shaw.

Normal—Forwards, E. Dahl and S. Sloggy; center, R. Huber; guards S. Olson and C. Clark.

Field basket: Bradish, 4; Shaw, 2; Keeler, 1; Chamberlain, 2; Hyde, 2; Moll, 2; Tiedeman, 2; Sloggy, 2; Dahl, 3; Olson, 1. Free throws: Bradish, 5; Sloggy, 4. Referee, Chas. Bradish; umpire, Hale Stowe.

ZBYSZKO LOSES ANOTHER MATCH

Agrees to Throw Three Men in 15 Minutes, but Third One Stays Limit at Detroit

DETROIT, Mich., March 25.—Zbyszko, the Polish wrestler, admits today that he undertook too much, when he guaranteed he would throw three men in 15 minutes at last night's exhibition. Two of them went down, but a third stayed over the limit, thus making the Polish giant forfeit the match.

Zbyszko threw his first two men in fair time, leaving only five minutes and fifty seconds of the time for the third man, Floyd Cutcher of Armada, Mich. Cutcher has a good local reputation and lived up to it for he stayed over the limit easily. Jesse Jorgenson and Harry Davis were the first two victims.

INSURE PUGS FOR SUM OF $50,000

Gleason will Take No Chance on the Longevity of Jeff and Johnson; Arrange World Tour

CHICAGO, March 25.—The battlers who will fight for the world's greatest ring title and a fortune in cash July 4, will be insured during their training periods for $50,000 each. Promoters Gleason and Rickard will take no chances on the longevity of Jim Jeffries and Jack Johnson. Heavy insurance policies will secure good faith with the public and also protect the promoters' interests.

Jack Gleason today told of this innovation in big fight preparations upon his arrival from California enroute to New York to complete arrangements with railroad companies for handling admission tickets to the fight.

Incidentally Gleason will insist upon an understanding with Johnson as to his training for the fight. The promoter today declared he would make it imperative that Johnson appear on the coast not later than the first week in May.

Gleason was accompanied by Sam Birger, manager and chief adviser of Jeffries. In New York Birger will arrange for the world tour awaiting Jeffries if he wins the decision over Johnson. Numerous moving picture sketches showing Jeffries in actual training at his Santa Cruz camp will be used on this world tour.

KETCHEL SAID TO BE GOING BACK

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 25.—Sporting men here predict that if a battle for the middleweight championship can be arranged between Stanley Ketchel and Billy Papke, who is now in Paris, the champion will lose his title.

They are not sure that Sam Langford of Boston, the tarbaby, will not take Ketchel's measure when the two meet in Philadelphia for a six round fight April 29. Six rounds is a short distance, but Langford can hand out the punishment and Ketchel was in bad shape at the end of his six round go with Klaus.

Frisco sports say the Michigan assassin's mode of living with late hours and careless living has had much to do with his retrogression.

MALLOY LINES UP A LIST OF PLAYERS

Word from Chicago from Mike Malloy is to the effect that he has signed the following players for the Red Wing team:

Jas. O. Oelkers, Woodman, Wis., outfielder; R. A. La Counte, Flaudreau, S. D., outfielder; Elias La Bean, infielder, Ely, Minn.; Martin J. Tappan, Cumberland, Wis., outfielder, and Walter P. Breen of Harvard, first sacker with some record.

Manager Corrigan of the Rochester baseball club, writes from Minneapolis to the effect that he has landed McNeil of Rochester, N. Y., as one of his mound artists. Ed Gehan of Tacoma is also lined up. Geo. Hanson, a backstop, has accepted the terms offered him and he will be ready for duty in Rochester about May 29.

BASEBALL PLAYERS REPORT APRIL 18

Manager Safford of the local baseball club has issued calls to the signed players to report at this city April 18 for the spring training. Games have been scheduled with the Regina team for April 23, 24 and 25. La Crosse has about 25 players signed.

AMATEUR MAT CHAMP LOSES HIS TITLE

CHICAGO, March 25.—Frank Motis, National A. A. U. heavyweight wrestling champion, today suffers from a fracture of two ribs and the loss of his title to Joe Ridder of Markwhite square. The injuries were received last night in the semi-final round of the Inter-Park grappling competition. Referee E. Reynolds announced Ridder the victor on points, the Markwhite heavyweight being on the offensive during the greater part of the go.

ROLLER BEATS DE ROUEN
ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 25.—Dr. B. F. Roller Wednesday night won in straight falls from Raoul De Rouen. The first fall was given to Dr. Roller in 5 minutes 30 seconds, because De Rouen bit him on the leg. The second fall, in 29 minutes 20 seconds, was won on a scissors on head and body lock.

Dr. Roller will meet Prof. Henry Webber, champion of Austria at the local theater April 5.

TWO REFEREES FOR BIG FIGHT

Rickard Says One Might Be Accidentally Knocked Out by Blow Not Intended for Him

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 25.—Far be it from Tex Rickard to take any chances on the referee in the Johnson-Jeffries fight being knocked out by accident.

He announces today that he would demand the selection of two referees, one a substitute. The substitute will be called upon to act only in case either Johnson or Jeffries, during their fast milling, accidentally hands the regular referee a knockout wallop.

"Both these fights are big and fast," said Tex. "It might easily happen that the referee would be disabled by getting in the way of a blow not intended for him. To avoid that, I will insist on two referees."

TRAMPS GETTING NUMEROUS AGAIN

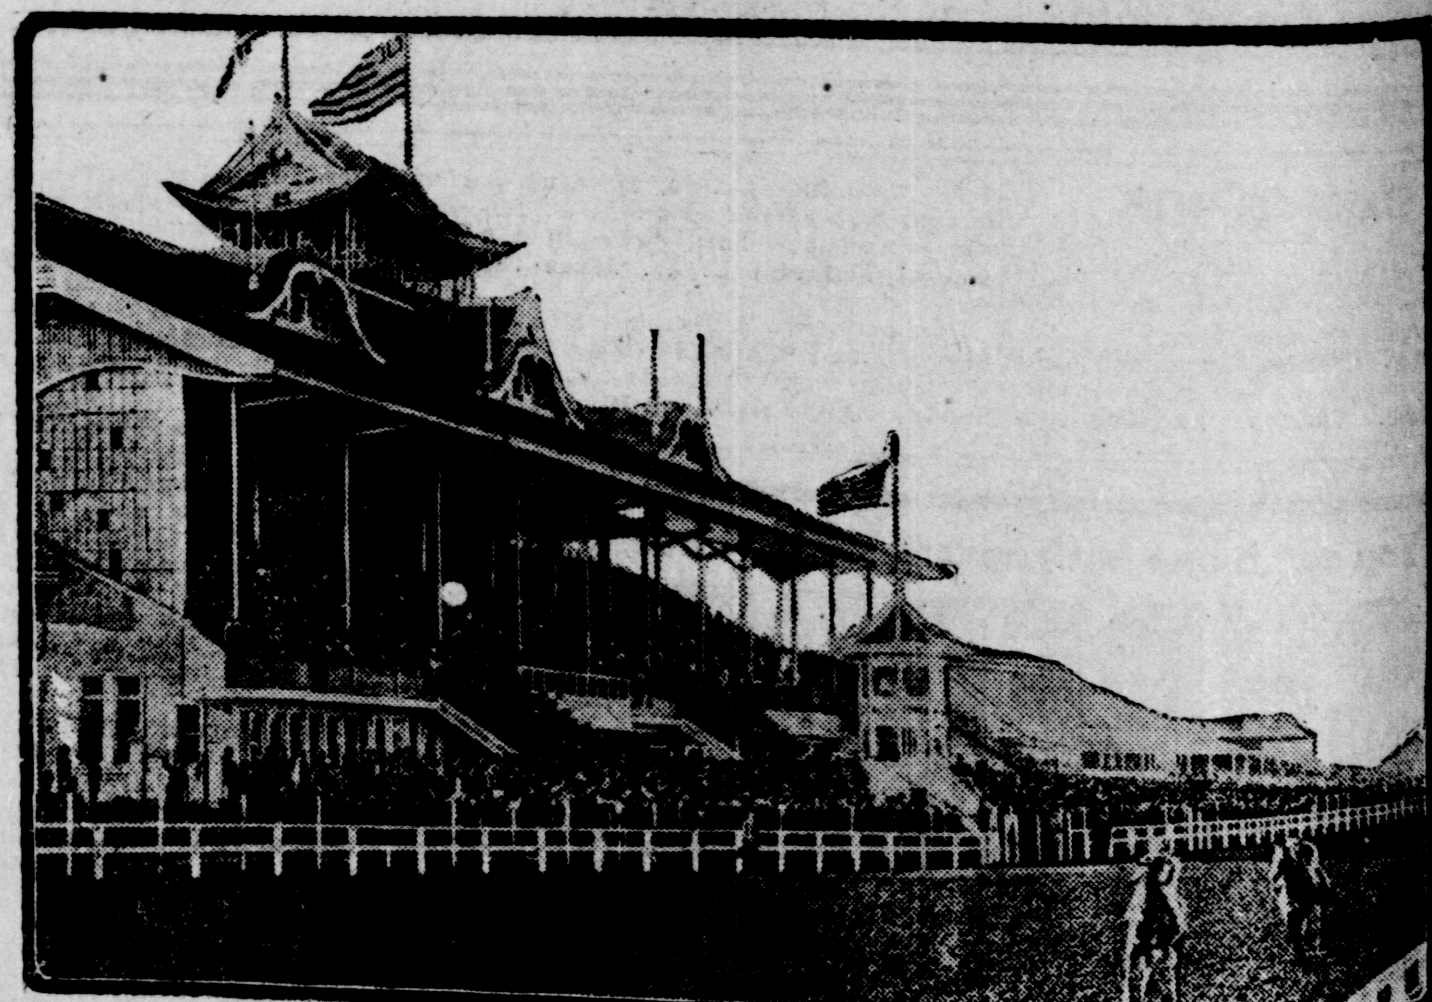

With the advent of the warm summer weather of the past week, the daily influx of "weary Willies" into the North side is being suddenly increased. Every train that arrives at the North side yards of the Milwaukee and the Burlington roads carries large numbers of tramps, the greater share of whom are harbored at the police station and then turned out in the following morning.

SKIRMISH IS OVER BATTLE TO COME

Senator La Follette Says
Real Work Must Be Done
at Primaries Between Now and November

MADISON, Wis., March 25.—"The victory will strengthen the morale of the progressive organization. It will demonstrate that the System can be beaten. But it will be clearly understood that little was achieved besides the temporary humiliation of an old man of bad eminence, whose successor the System must, at all events, soon put forward."

Out from the center of the smoke of battle which raged at Washington for three days last week, Senator La Follette, in today's issue of his Weekly Magazine says that "The effect of this contest in the House has been greatly exaggerated." Senator La Follette believes that the change in the House rules increasing the members of the committee from five to ten, without the speaker as chairman, to be selected by a caucus, will accomplish little.

"The new committee on rules shall have the same power as the old committee on rules, that is: whenever a majority of its members so determined, it is privileged to present for the consideration of the House a special rule or motion with respect to some particular bill or proceedings. It has always had that power. The republican majority of this committee on rules will be named by a republican caucus. The steel trust, the sugar trust, the beef trust, in short, the System will control in that caucus by an overwhelming majority. It dominates both branches of Congress. It speaks through Aldrich in the Senate and through Cannon in the House. It will name the new committee on rules."

"Cannon will not be a member of the committee, but the System will be potential on that committee as though Cannon were its chairman. Sheltered behind the committee, he will be as effective an instrument for wrong as though he were still its head and front. He may be even more dangerous. His offensive arrogance, his coarse personality will be less conspicuous."

Senator La Follette says that so long as the republican majority in the House serves the System it will make little difference whether or not Cannon is a member of the committee on rules.

"Cannonism without Cannon is just as hurtful to the country as Cannonism with Cannon. The people must understand that Cannonism is a short definition of government by that System. Aldrich and Cannon would have little power for evil if a majority of the republican majority in both the Senate and the House represented public interest instead of special interest."

"The American people must understand that this has been only a skirmish. The real battle is still to come, and that must be fought out in the primaries and the elections between now and November. Candidates must be nominated and elected who will vote against Cannon and his type without flinching and against Cannon in every form."

"In fear of the approaching elections, some of the System congressmen deserted Cannon and voted with the insurgents. These men are making a record upon which to go before their constituents. The gathering storm of public sentiment caused them to abandon the camp of the enemy and join the insurgents. Let them come. Let them be tested. Watch their records. They will be tried many times in this session. By their fruits Ye shall know them."

BURGLARS GUILTY;
TWO YEARS EACH

Pleading guilty to the charge of burglary, Walter Adams of Minneapolis and Richard Harris of San Francisco were each sentenced to two years at the state reformatory at Green Bay, by Judge Brindley. Adams is 19 years of age and Harris is 20. The young men said they had known each other for a little over a year, first becoming acquainted at Leeds, S. D. They came here a couple of days ago and Wednesday afternoon they entered the home of Cora E. Janka, stole a quantity of jewelry and other articles and afterward were arrested in the North side railroad yards. They claimed this was their first offense.

ANSWER

One—the flat, sad, sickly looking one—was baked with poor baking powder; possibly the high price kind—possibly the cheap, big can kind. It denotes a lack of leavening gas, or an uneven distribution of same—or both. The other—the large, light, fluffy one—was prepared with Calumet Baking Powder, and denotes the never-failing, delicious baking that always results from its use.

Calumet does not cost as much as the high price baking powder, but it is very much superior in every way—it is purer—more reliable—more healthful. Here are the reasons:

All baking powders undergo a chemical change in the process of baking. You do not take it into the stomach in the same form as it is in the can. For example: When you use Cream of Tartar Baking Powder you get Rochelle Salts in your food, because the Cream of Tartar during this reaction turns into Rochelle Salts. This, as you know, is a drug, and should be taken only under doctor's orders.

Calumet is so carefully and scientifically prepared, that the neutralization of the ingredients is absolutely perfect.

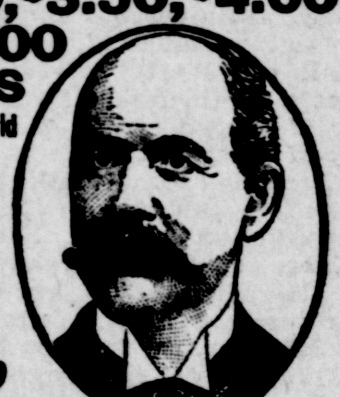

That it is absolutely pure and of highest quality is proven by the fact that

Here's the Proof

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin, until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly, until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is now fairly covered with hair and it keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

WAUSAU KICKS ON PLAYING SCHEDULE

15 Games at Home in Lump in July and August will Be Changed, Says President Elliott

The schedule of games which is being voted on by the presidents of the clubs in the Minny league has been approved by the officials of the local and the Red Wing clubs, but the Wausau president has objected to two long series of 15 games at home in the months of July and August. In May and June the club has practically 24 straight games at home which they feel satisfied with but the series in the two later months are the stumbling block.

Wausau's complaint was received today.

Easily Fixed

President Elliott, however, says that this can easily be remedied by the switching of several other games, which will prove satisfactory to all clubs. Most of the clubs are expected to approve of the schedule as it has been well prepared. There will be some minor changes made but the schedule as a whole is a little better than was first expected. Each club is travelling about 600 miles more than last year, due to the addition of the two clubs and the inauguration of the three day series Elliott stated today that he expected that the schedule would be approved by most of the clubs by tomorrow evening.

Standard Oil Company will Demonstrate on Eighth, Between Main and State Next Week

In order to demonstrate to the city officials the improvement made in macadam by the use of road oil, J. D. Harbeck of Chicago, representing the Standard Oil company, will oil the macadam in the block on Eighth between Main and State streets next week.

This work will be done free of charge and Mr. Harbeck, who arrived in the city this morning, will superintend the job. He says the macadam is first thoroughly swept, after which the oil is applied by pumping it out of barrels and then spread over the street. When this is completed a thin layer of sand is sprinkled over the oil. A half gallon of oil is used to every square yard. It is said that this makes a perfectly dustless street and also makes it more durable. The work will be started next Monday morning.

STILL CANNON WILL CONTROL

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 25.—"The election of an entire Cannon rules committees will keep the Cannonism issue before the country," said Representative Poindexter (R., Wash.) one of the insurgents. "Personally, I can see little difference between a committee run by Speaker Cannon and one run by his friends."

A woman wore a pedometer one week while doing her housework.

Her house was not large and it was convenient, but she found she had walked each day five miles.

That means, she walked, and it means that YOU walk 1,800 miles a year at housework. She saved more than half this walking with a Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet.

CHILD IS FOUND ON CAR TRACKS

Discovered Playing in the Middle of the Tracks and Later Is Returned to Its Home

Playing in the middle of the street on car tracks on the corner of Tenth and Main streets, Mrs. W. J. Ferris, residing at 102 North Tenth street, found a two-year-old child this morning and took it into her home. Not being able to find its parents in the immediate vicinity, she notified the police and later the little one was identified as the child of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Lawrence, residing in the same block.

TO RAISE JUNGLE FOLK FOR FOOD

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 25.—That the hippopotamus, the rhinoceros, the springbok, the trekbok and all the other varieties of African game, could be raised in the United States and would help increase the food supplies was argued before the house committee on agriculture today by Captain Fritz Duquesne, the famous hunter, and other experts who appeared to advocate the passage of the Broussard bill, which contemplates the importation of many (tropical) and sub-tropical animals and their propagation on government reservations.

FIVE VILLAGES VICTIMS OF ETNA

Disaster Grows as Eighteen Craters Pour Out Fiery Flood Over Fertile Italian Area

CATANIA, Sicily, March 25.—Thousands of people, rendered homeless by the eruption of Mount Etna which bids fair to be the most destructive of modern times, are fleeing toward Catania today, the scene rivaling that of fifteen months ago, when this city became the refuge of many Messina's earthquake sufferers.

With characteristic zeal, the people first tried to check the flow of lava by the interposition of Holy Images and relics. The eruption increased in violence today, six new craters opening in the side of the mountain.

Five Villages Lost

A stream of molten lava fifty feet deep and a half mile wide is now sweeping down the southern slope of the mountain at the rate of 1300 feet an hour. It has already covered nine miles of the slope and destroyed either in part or whole, the villages of Borello, Belpasse, San Leo, Rinazzi, Copello and Albenello. Nicolosi escaped destruction through the fact that the town is shut in by hills. The lava surrounds the hills, however, and most of the people of the town have fled.

Eighteen craters are pouring out their columns of sulphurous vapor, stones, cinders and lava. These separate streams run together at a point a few miles down the slope.

The ruin of farms and the destruction of homes have impoverished the entire section.

PREFECT IS RESCUED

Prefect Minervini of Capri, superintending the work of rescue, was himself cut off by lava today and nearly perished before three soldiers rescued him. The soldiers were all badly burned.

Cardinal Francisca-Navi, the aged archbishop of Catania, was thrice overcome while administering to the sufferers and was finally carried from the scene in a state of collapse. There have been no reports of deaths yet, but it is feared several persons have been cut off and have perished. A number are known to be missing.

APPEAL FOR HELP

Relief depots have been opened here and an appeal has been made to the government to send help as speedily as possible. The extent of the destruction is so great that the government will probably have to make an appropriation for the sufferers as it did at the time of the earthquake.

A population of about 300,000 is affected by the eruption, which now promises to be the greatest of modern times.

COURAGEOUS GIRL PREVENTS DISASTER

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 25.—Sanford C. Ayres, 34, is dead, and five others are today believed seriously burned as the result of an explosion of oil at the Canfield refinery here, causing a loss of $60,000.

Miss Cybilla Hoover, employed as a bookkeeper in a nearby office, faced death by remaining in her office telephoning for a yard engine to come and pull away three tank cars loaded with 2,500 gallons of gasoline which stood a short distance from fire. When the engine arrived the framework of the cars was blazing but the flames were soon extinguished.

"DEATH VALLEY" TELLS ITS STORY

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., March 25.—Prospectors arriving here from the Amargosa desert east of the Funeral Mountains, report the finding of the body of David Eldredge, a nephew of the president of the National Sewing Machine company, who was lost on the desert last fall. On the body was a ragged diary telling day by day his sufferings from thirst and slow starvation and of his wanderings in search of help.

"All in. I can go no further," was the last note in the little book, written apparently a few hours before death.

HAUSER ROW IS STILL SEETHING

"They Exonerated Me, but They Didn't Quit the Persecution," Says Commissioner

SAY HAUSER SOLD ROOSTER

Foes Indicate He has Sold to the County; Hauser Says "Sure, That Is No Secret"

Today the Hauser row is seething worse than ever and every rising sun promises developments between the present and the time the county board meets next Wednesday to take action on the matter.

"If a majority of the board members are unseated for selling goods to the county," said an official this morning, "why wasn't the same board disqualified when they elected Hauser. And why isn't all the business this board has transacted illegal on this same basis?"

None volunteered reply.

No Secret, Says Hauser

Some of the members opposing Commissioner Hauser's retention in office declare today that since the malfeasance charge has been stirred up because of sales made to the county, that the record shows Commissioner Hauser sold a rooster to the poor farm for a dollar.

"Sure," said Commissioner Hauser this morning when asked about the rooster, "there is no secret about that. The overseer came to me and wanted a rooster I had to add to his coop and I let him have it."

Knocks Continue

"I thought last fall when the board exonerated me from all blame in this matter," said Mr. Hauser this morning, "that they would drop the fight on me, but instead my enemies have kept up the fight and the knocks ever since, although I can't find out for the life of me why they are fighting me, unless it is a few personal grudges which remain to be satisfied by trying to get my scalp."

Hauser calls the fight on him persecution and maintains there is no just cause for it, unless it be grudges or political ambitions of certain others not now holding a job.

City Probe Too?

If the county board members who are alleged to have sold goods to the county are investigated, as attorneys threaten, will this inquiry extend to the city? This is the question which is being freely discussed at the court house today. It is claimed by some of the supervisors that there are aldermen who have sold goods to the county and who would come under the same technical interpretation of the law, as the members of the county board.

MINERS STRIKE NOW IS CERTAIN

Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania Workers Will Probably Walk Out on April 1

CINCINNATI, O., March 25.—Following a complete failure of the operators and miners who have been in conference here over a new wage scale to reach any basis of agreement, it was announced today that a strike of the coal miners of Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania will in all probability be ordered for April 1.

The sub-scale committees of both miners and operators held their final session yesterday afternoon and this morning reported to the general committee that all negotiations are off.

As a result the committees were at once dissolved and it is expected that the president of the United Mine Workers of America will during the day issue a call for a convention of the miners and leave it to them whether or not the strike will be ordered.

DIRTY KIDNEYS CAUSE BACKACHE

A few doses clean and regulate the Kidneys, ending lame back and Bladder misery.

A real surprise awaits every sufferer from kidney or bladder trouble who takes several doses of Pape's Diuretic. Misery in the back, sides or loins, sick headache, nervousness, rheumatism pains, heart palpitation, dizziness, sleeplessness, inflamed or swollen eyelids, lack of energy and all symptoms of out-of-order kidneys simply vanish.

Uncontrollable urination (especially at night), smarting, offensive and discolored water and other bladder misery ends.

The moment you suspect kidney or urinary disorder, or feel any rheumatism, begin taking this harmless medicine, with the knowledge that there is no other remedy, at any price, made anywhere else in the world, which will effect so thorough and prompt a cure as a fifty-cent treatment of Pape's Diuretic, which any druggist can supply.

It is needless to feel miserable and worried, because this unusual preparation goes at once to the out-of-order kidneys and urinary system, distributing its cleansing, healing and strengthening influence directly upon the organs and glands affected, and completes the cure before you realize it.

Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will tell you that Pape, Thompson & Pape, of Cincinnati, is a large and responsible medicine concern, thoroughly worthy of your confidence.

Only curative results can come from taking Pape's Diuretic, and a few days' treatment will make any one feel fine.

Accept only Pape's Diuretic—fifty-cent treatment—any drug store—anywhere in the world.

HATCHET STORY DECLARED FAKE

New Witness Said to Be Prepared to Testify that Miller Had it Placed by Saylor's Body

WATSEKA, Ill., March 25.—The most sensational and important evidence yet unearthed by the state in the Saylor murder trial is said to have been discovered by detectives today. Though States Attorney Palliser declined to discuss it, it is reported on good authority that he has found a man who alleges on the night Banker Saylor was slain, he overheard Dr. Wm. Miller and John Grunden who, with Mrs. Saylor, are being tried on charge of murder, arrange to put a hatchet in the room of the Saylor home where Saylor's body lay.

The name of this witness is withheld. It is declared that he was at the Saylor home shortly after Saylor was shot by Dr. Miller. He will testify, it is said, that he later went to Dr. Miller's office and that he there saw John Grunden with a broadsword in his hand which later was found at the side of Saylor's body.

Witness Blanton today stuck to the story of the condition of the Saylor home when he entered it soon after the tragedy. Blanton observed that on the bottom of an overturned card table was scattered a deck of cards. The state contends this shows that the table was overturned after the killing as the cards were placed in a manner in which it would have been impossible for them to have fallen. He also swore to a marked intimacy between Dr. Miller and Mrs. Saylor.

UNIFORM RECOVERED BY SEARCH WARRANT

Through the agency of a search warrant, former Captain Charles H. Rawlinson of Company M recovered a uniform from Albert Linhart, a former member of the company. Linhart resigned as a member, but he failed to turn in his uniform, it is said, and thereupon a search warrant was issued and the police found the uniform in question in a house on Eighth and Denton streets, where Linhart formerly lived. The captain of the company is held responsible for all of its property.

KNEEN WILL NOT RUN FOR SHERIFF

Will Again Be a Candidate for the Assembly from Second District of the County

E. J. Kneen, democratic assemblyman from the second La Crosse county district, is positively not a candidate for the democratic nomination for sheriff.

"I have no idea of running for sheriff and will not be a candidate," said the assemblyman. Reports throughout the county have been to the effect that Kneen would soon make announcement.

Assemblyman Kneen will again be a candidate for the assembly from that second district and feels confident of re-election by a satisfactory vote.

It is understood Supervisor John Kinley is thinking of becoming a republican candidate for sheriff.

"Chris Burns will be the next sheriff of La Crosse county," said Mr. Kneen this morning, "just watch and see if what I tell you doesn't come out right."

S.S.S. CURES OLD BLOOD TROUBLES

Contagious Blood Poison is at the bottom of a great many old blood troubles. The disease may have been contracted years ago and some treatment used that removed the outward symptoms and shut the virus up in the system to slumber in the blood, but it only awaited a favorable opportunity to break out in some form again.

Certain forms of catarrhal troubles, especially where the bones are affected, scrofulous affections, non-healing sores, ulcerated membranes, etc., are due to this specific poison. Perhaps many who are afflicted in this way are ignorant of the fact that the seeds of this mighty poison are still hidden in the blood. Like the deadly serpent, which is dangerous as long as the faintest spark of life is left to enable it to sink its poisonous fangs, this powerful disease will corrupt and defile, while the least particle of its insidious virus remains in the blood.

The best time to get rid of Contagious Blood Poison is when the disease is first contracted, and before its virus so penetrates the blood as to cause ulcerated mouth and throat, copper-colored spots, falling hair, etc. Then of course the victim is saved much humiliation and suffering; but even after the poison has become established in the system it can be removed and a cure effected if the blood be thoroughly purified with S. S. S.

S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It possesses penetrating powers that enable it to go down into the blood, and remove the last trace of blood poison. It cures all blood troubles simply and solely because it removes the cause from the circulation.

Not only does S. S. S. cure cure Contagious Blood Poison when first contracted, but reaches it in any of its stages, even where the trouble has been inherited. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, and does not contain the slightest trace of mineral in any form. You cannot rid of your old blood trouble if you will take S. S. S. and allow it to purify the blood. Book on the blood and any medical advice free.

A PERFECT CURE.

Some eight years ago I was in a state of blood poisoning. I was covered with sores and ulcers from head to foot. No medicine could express my feelings of woe during these long years. I was advised by friends who had seen wonderful cures made by S. S. S. to try S. S. S. We got some and improved from the start, and a complete and perfect cure was the result. S. S. S. is the only blood remedy which reaches desperate cases of old blood troubles.

THE house is a plain rectangle in shape, with a slight projection on the rear, to give room for the pantry and kitchen extension. A building with a rectangular outline—that is, with one side longer than the other, is always more architecturally attractive than a building absolutely square, with both sides equal. It also, as a rule, provides for a better arrangement of rooms, due to the fact that in a rectangular building the staircase can be in the center, which allows rooms to be placed on both sides of the hall. The house illustrated has been designed to give the utmost of architectural beauty and comfortable arrangement for the money spent. Every feature connected with the design was carefully weighed before it was incorporated in the plan.

As will be seen upon studying the floor plans, a large living-room is provided, with a staircase leading directly therefrom. The living-room connects with the dining-room through a sliding-door. Those who require an entirely separate hall would want to partition off the hall from the living-room, but in moderate-sized houses it has been found perfectly practical to have the staircase open from the living-room. In this case access to the front door is obtained from the kitchen by means of the two doors between the kitchen and the livingroom. In a small home it is charming to step from the porch directly into the living-room. In the winter-time the porch could be well enclosed in glass, and it would thus take the place of a vestibule, although much larger and finer. The little coat closet in the rear entry is a most comfortable feature pantry, such as is shown in this design. The lockers for food are on one side of the center partition and the lockers for china on the other. The food is enclosed with panel doors, while the china doors are glazed. With such an arrangement the flour is usually kept in bags in the bottom locker of the food cupboard, and the bread is mixed on an ordinary table in the kitchen.

The principal object in designing moderate-sized houses is to get scheme, with the staircase occupying one end of the hall and the bathroom the other. A linen closet is provided, with its first shelf high enough from the floor to give head-room over the stairs underneath; the balance is filled up with roomy shelves of ample capacity. The bedrooms have roomy closets, and a broom closet is provided in the second-story hall.

This design does not call for an attic; the amount of money necessary to build a roof high enough for head-room, with the necessary dormer windows to light it and a staircase to reach it, is distributed elsewhere in the building. An attic is desirable when economy is not so carefully to be maintained; otherwise it is better to store the trunks and like things on racks in the basement.

The exterior is covered with clapboards, with the rough side out, mitered at the corners and stained. An olive-green stain, with ivory-white trimmings and sash, and bronze-green blinds, will make a most attractive combination of color.

HARDY FERNS

Well Adapted to Places Where Other Plants Fail

Few people are aware of the beautiful effects produced by deft plantings of hardy ferns. Many of them are specially adapted to cold, damp corners, ranging along foundation walls or under trees. It is a mistaken idea that ferns will succeed in sodden or stagnant soil. Although many grow naturally in very damp or wet soil, nature always provides them perfect drainage, and the same care is necessary in preparing beds for them that other plants require. It is a mistake to buy ferns from street vendors, because they fail to grow after the long exposure of the roots to sun and air. Many nurserymen make a specialty of hardy ferns and these come to you in perfect condition. The following comprise the best varieties for almost entire shade: Adiantum pedatum (maidenhair fern); Aspidium acrostichoides (wood-fern); Aspidium Gold-lamm (shield-fern); Asplenium Filix-femina (lady-fern); Woodwardia Augustifolia (chain-fern); Osmunda Claytoniana (flowering-fern); Asplenium ebeneum (ebony-fern). As a background for these, where there is a wall to climb, Hedera helix (English ivy), is beautiful, attaching itself firmly by its stem rootlets.

Flowers for Shady Places

Few plants will flower where sunshine is wholly excluded. Lily-of-the-valley will thrive with very little sunshine; and if you have a corner where the sun seldom penetrates, double, hardy violets will bloom profusely there. The stems will be somewhat short, but brush the rank foliage apart and you will find blossoms everywhere. With two or three hours of sun, pansies are rich in color and immense in size, provided there is a free current of air, for air they must have. Other flowers blooming successfully here are hardy phloxes, columbines, spiderwort, foxgloves, lobelias and bleeding heart (dicentra spectabilis), with day lilies, both the white and the orange. For foliage effect: Cannas, caladiums and "Dusty Miller" (centaurea) succeed. The crowning delight of the garden at night is the delicious fragrance of the nicotiana, its white flowers gleaming like stars in the moonlight. With scanty sunshine, they last well into the day and all day in cloudy weather or indoors in vases. In flower from early July until freezing weather.

Creeping and Climbing Plants

For a shady dooryard nothing can surpass a mass of creeping blue myrtle or periwinkle (vinca minor), or "Creeping Charlie" (Lysimachia nummularia), a sheet of gold for its blooming season. Both are hardy perennials and fine for carpeting shady waste places and the ground under trees. Climbers for scanty sunshine are climbing eunonymus, Hall's honeysuckle, evergreen in the South and green until after Christmas in the North. Clematis paniculata, too, succeeds well in shade. With plenty of sun, Heckroth's honeysuckle, ever-blooming, the scarlet Belgian, monthly, also Hall's and others, for piazza, summer houses, pergolas, screens and trellises. For fences and hedges, the immense, scarlet, trumpet-shaped flowers of the trumpet vine (Bignonia radicans) are dazzling. A border of nasturtiums in its foreground completes a brilliant backyard effect.

POPPIES IDEAL FLOWERS TO COVER WASTE PLACES

be very rich, or a rank growth of foliage results. The cobaea is a very rapid grower, with beautiful foliage and large bell-shaped flowers, the blue being the showier. Gardeners delight in giving it a foreground of scarlet salvia or dwarf crimson zinnias. The seeds should be started indoors in April. Plant them singly in small cans or three-inch pots, placing the seeds edge-wise and covering with nearly an inch of soil. Water them lightly and at planting-time, if the soil is allowed to become quite dry, the plants are slipped

Best Annuals for Various Uses

For covering rough ground and waste places, nothing better than Shirley poppies, tulip poppies, phlox Drummondii, California poppy, sweet alyssum, nasturtiums, scarlet salvia, and above all, for lasting effect, petunias. The latter will bloom all summer and on into autumn freezing weather—a perfect show of bloom, as shown in our picture which represents simply a section taken at random from a mass in late summer. If the ground be rocky, the single petalula (rose-moss) will fairly melt with its succulent growth and give bloom. Give these sunshine.

For Edgings

Choose free bloomers of low growth like sweet alyssum, lobelia, dwarf carnation, double portulaca, dwarf nasturtium, California poppy, ageratum, dwarf snapdragon, phlox Drummondii and for an edging for tall backgrounds the dwarf zinnias.

For Massing

The edging plants just given are surpassed for low effects, but for massing requiring taller plants, choose dwarf snapdragon, mammoth zinnias, scarlet salvia, African marigolds, and the asters. For massing against fences and buildings, common single hollyhocks, Alleghany hollyhocks, dried-flowered sunflowers and rubus—golden-glow.

For Cut Flowers

Plant early-flowering cosmos, dwarf snapdragon, scarlet salvia, sweet annual chrysanthemum, poppies of peony and carnation types, verbena, asters, nasturtiums, Stella sunflowers, petunias, nicotiana and zinnias.

When to Cut

Gather the half-opened buds of poppy in late evening or before the sun shines upon them in the morning, as they will keep perfectly for a few days—a most effective cut flower. Cut sweet peas and all fragrant flowers in the evening. Others may be cut in the morning. Place stems in deep water.

Best Annual Vines for Shading

For covering rough ground and waste places, as well as for a rapid climber, the climbing nasturtium is excellent as well as beautiful, and will grow in almost any kind of soil. Only, if plenty of flowers are desired, the soil must not from the pots with no root disturbance. Keep on the sill of a sunny window while starting. Other rapid growers are the variegated Japanese hop, hyacinth bean, and for places where it will not become a weed, the lovely morning glory.

with success unless the cook is a very poor one. I know a woman who began serving pies when her church society gave dinners. Now she bakes pies for grocers, private individuals and banquets. She bakes in her own home kitchen and has a wagon for delivering to grocers, but individuals come for their pies.

In most places there is a demand for a good caterer for social occasions, and if you have any talent for cooking whatever, this is a good business to adopt. Perhaps you cannot actually cook, but can plan menus, know how to buy foods and to serve them nicely. Well and good. Go right ahead. Employ your cook and you take charge of the business end of catering. There are more things to successful catering than standing over a stove and boiling chicken for salad or making sandwiches and rolls.

I CANNOT see how any woman left to provide for herself cannot make a good living, if she will drop ambitions beyond her capabilities and devote herself to cooking. Catering for parties, or working up a line in one branch of cookery, is bound to meet and confer with them about allowing you special rates. It is perfectly legitimate for you to have a commission if you help them introduce or advertise any special brand of groceries, or if you secure them customers. Your patrons will ask you what brand of coffee, what flavoring extracts, what flour, where you get good cream, eggs, butter and so on. Do not think the dealers will propose giving you a commission or low rates unless you ask it. Make a list of the clubs and societies which may become patrons and send them your announcement.

Arrange your kitchen for your work, just as a man would arrange his shop or office. Cut a place for a window, if you need light. Be sure your range bakes on the bottom, that the chimney is cleaned out and draws well. Why waste good materials because your stove is a poor makeshift? Buy new, large cooking utensils if your own are old and too small. Here you have another chance to get a commission from dealers in cooking utensils and hardware. Have long tables that will hold stacks of dishes, and hampers with clean cloths in which to send out food. After you get a start you can prepare things in your own kitchen and take them by wagon to the destined place. I know a caterer who arrives on the scene about fifteen minutes before time to serve with her croquettes all ready save for heating through, her salad mixed and packed in ice, and her ice cream in freezers. She brings dishes, candelabra, silver and nappery, and her waiters. While the first course of croquettes, salad and rolls is being served, she makes the coffee and dishes the ice cream and cuts the cake. This plan saves much time and worry for her and for her hostess.

It is a good plan to have your own

china, sherbet and water glasses and punch-bowl. Later on you can add other china, silver and nappery. In the case of small luncheons and high teas and dinners, hostesses generally prefer using their own pretty china, but they do not wish to get out the china for large teas and receptions. There are many kinds of dainty, inexpensive china which you can buy. Stick to pure white, or to green and gilt decorations. Flowers of different colors will be used at different affairs, and these two kinds of china will harmonize with any color-scheme. Later on, after you gain experience and patronage, take up the decoration of tables and furnishing name cards and favors. This will give you a chance to help someone else earn money, for you can farm this branch out. You can also farm out part of the cooking—one woman perhaps can make splendid bread and rolls, another good mayonnaise, another fancy cakes. You can supply dishwashers, too.

It is so easy to let the caterer, florist, dressmaker and milliner wait for their pay, that I would always ask for a deposit. I do not mean to scare you, or give you the impression that women cannot be trusted in business matters. I only wish to tell you that by looking at catering in a businesslike way and striking your bargains first, you will save time and worry. No man caterer would serve a wedding breakfast or banquet without knowing exactly how many to prepare for, the price per plate; nor would he hesitate at writing down the menu and the terms and showing the memorandum to his patroness, to be sure things were understood perfectly on each side.

Most women in smaller cities start in catering by cooking and serving church dinners. This is good practice in keeping your head, for generally there are from one to twenty women rushing in and out of the kitchen and everything is in confusion. All you can do is to try and keep the kitchen and dining-room arrangements in your own hands and those of your head assistants. Coach these assistants to guide the amateur waitresses, giving each a particular duty, keeping order and system in supplying dishes and food. This is vital, especially if the church is serving a business men's luncheon. The great complaint heard at these is that men have to wait too long to be served, that first-comers are served bountifully with hot viands, and that the next relays get cold food and "scraps." All this can be avoided if you have head enough to demand military precision. I know a luncheon room where two thousand business girls eat their luncheons from half-past eleven to two o'clock each day. The kitchen space is smaller than most of your kitchens and one woman is manager. Each girl as she enters goes to a table and takes a plate. Then she passes to the warm table, where hot meats and vegetables are served to her; then she goes in turn to the breads, salads and desserts. She passes by a cashier, who "sizes up" the amount of food on her plate and gives her a celluloid check. The girl places her plate on a table and goes and gets her silver, a paper napkin and water, tea, coffee, chocolate or milk. When she has finished she takes her dishes to a counter and pays the second cashier as she passes out. This is the simplest system imaginable and one who can install in the church kitchen for the helpers.

I asked the woman manager of a tea-room in a big department store who serves hundreds of business men and women at afternoon tea, what was the vital point in catering on a big scale like this. "Watch your ice box," she said; "that is where the waste comes. If I have articles of food left at six o'clock, I send word around and sell them to the clerks in the store. I only buy enough for each day's supplies, especially meats and poultry. The grocers and butchers have immense ice-boxes and cold storage places, and they can keep fresh foods better than I can in our big, hot kitchen. I let them keep it instead of having to look after it myself. Each morning I am on hand when the supplies arrive. My head cook goes through the baskets, and if a thing is not absolutely fresh and perfect, the man who delivers takes it back. Thus my dealers know that anything not fresh will come right back. I do not wait until I am ready to cook to see if things are fresh." I thought this very good advice, for it is easier to let dealers care for the food, and you will soon get a reputation for serving good, fresh goods if you follow this advice. If you have your own garden, orchard and poultry yard to draw upon, you will not have this problem.

AVOID WASTE SECRET OF PROFITABLE BALANCE SHEET

By Making Good Use of Everything—Watch the Ice Box—System is Essential—Fresh Food

If you have occasion to supply waitresses, remember that they must be harmonious with their surroundings.

you choose to put your girl waitresses in white for evening service, it is possible. Demand personal neatness in your help. Clean skin, clean fingernails, hair well brushed and neatly arranged, clothes well brushed, and spotless linens must be demanded. If you employ waiters, there should be no hint of tobacco or anything objectionable about the breath or clothes. Learn the rules of good serving, so that you can assist a hostess who wishes to have her family or friends attend to serving the refreshments at receptions or teas.

WILL COMPLETE

WORK THIS YEAR

Rev. Fr. Knapp, secretary to Bishop James Schwebach, said this morning it is the intention to complete the buildings for the new orphan's manual training and agricultural school, on the old Schaidach farm, this summer. Architects Schick & Roth are now drawing the plans,
and after their completion contracts
will be let and the work commenced.
It is not known what disposition will be made of the St. Michael's and St. Ann's orphanages when they are vacated, as both are owned by separate corporations.

New Shipment of Women's Suits

If you would like to see a $15 suit that does not look like a $15 suit—which, if you buy, your neighbor will think is worth much more—perhaps you will come in to see these splendid $15 suits freshly arrived from the East.

We mention one particularly good suit wearing a $15 price ticket. It comes in pretty navy, and tan striped weave serge, and has a very natty cut; the skirt is plaited. There is a correctness and dignity of style attaching to this model that is agreeably surprising.

ONE LAST CHANCE TO AVERT TARIFF

Fielding Now on Way to Washington to Confer with Taft and Prevent Disaster

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 25.—A new hope for adjustment of the tariff dispute with Canada that will avert the threatened tariff war has arisen.

Negotiations with Minister of Finance Fielding of Canada practically broken off after the futile conference between Fielding and the president at Albany last Sunday, were re-opened today and Fielding is now on his way to Washington to make one last effort to settle the problem. One week remains for further negotiations. If a basis of agreement is not reached by next Friday, the maximum provision of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law will go into effect against Canadian products and a tariff war, which many American business men say will be disastrous, will be begun.

The re-opening of negotiations, it is understood today, was the result of the intervention of the American Ambassador James A. Bryce, who arranged for the Washington conference between the President and Minister Fielding.

For The Woman That's Fat. A Detroit physician says that the cheapest and safest mixture a fat woman who wants to get thin can use is 1/2 ounce Marmola (get it in the original 1/2-ounce package), 1/2 ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic and 3 1/2 ounces Peppermint Water. The proper amount to take is a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime.

These ingredients may be obtained from any druggist at small cost, and make a combination that is not only excellent as a fat reducer, being able, it is claimed, to take off a pound a day without causing wrinkles, but is also a splendid help to the system as a whole, regulating the stomach and bowels (where the fat person's troubles begin), and clearing the skin of pimples and blotches. No exercise is required to help the remedy in its work and, best of all, no dieting is necessary while taking it—you can eat what you like.

NEW COMMANDANTS AT NAVY YARDS

day that Rear Admiral Leutze called at the White house to thank President Lincoln for appointing him to the naval academy. This last New Year's day he called on President Taft and told him of his White house reception long years ago.

SAME OLD GANG IN CONTROL OF HOUSE

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 25.—Unless Representative Sims (D., Tenn.) can stir up a fight over his resolution offered yesterday, with little support, to commit the democrats to a further change in the rules that will take the appointments of committees out of the hands of the speaker, the month of March will go out like a lamb in the house.

Those who predicted all sorts of trouble at the democratic caucus last night over the selection of Standpater Fitzgerald as a member of the rules committee, saw the gentleman named with scarcely a ripple of opposition and heard nothing but strains of harmony sung by the democratic chorus. But Sims is a very determined

gentleman, so determined that some call him stubborn, and as he has given due notice that he will press his demand for another caucus to consider the resolution, it may be predicted that he will at least keep his colleagues awake for a few days.

When a man insists upon giving you advice, you can readily get rid of him by offering him a little in return.

CHICAGO, March 25.—The railroad general managers, representing 49 western roads and the firemen's brotherhood are expected to announce today the names of their representatives on the arbitration board which will settle the wage differences of the two sides under the Erdman act.

These two arbitrators will select the third arbitrator and if they cannot agree Labor Commissioner Nelson and Interstate Commerce Commissioner Knapp will name him.

Both sides have signed the arbitration agreement and the firemen officers have returned to their homes. This is the fourth threatened general railway strike in the middle west that has been averted by invoking the Erdman act within two months.

The Women of Alaska Say "We can't keep house without The Ladies' World"

A subscriber in the interior of Alaska wrote on February 2, 1910, sending eight subscriptions to THE LADIES' WORLD. Her letter went out on the ill-fated Yucatan, sank with the steamer, was rescued and reached New York, water-blurred and tattered, but legible.

"We may have to wait," said she, "until navigation opens in the Spring before we can get our LADIES' WORLDS. June is a long way off for us who have to sit beyond the pass, but"—here's the point—"your magazine is worth waiting for."

The women of far-off Alaska "can't keep house without THE LADIES' WORLD."

On your news-stand to-day is your copy of THE LADIES' WORLD—the greatest woman's magazine in its field.

You do not have to wait for Dwight Elmendorf's unique "Adventures in Picture-Making."

You can get into the grip of Grace MacGowan Cooke's great serial, "The Fall and the Rebuilding," now.

You can get the latest and most authentic Spring styles now.

You don't have to wait until June for this notable number. Get it now—5c.

CLAIMS AGAINST JAMES' ESTATE

Judge John Brindley today is hearing the claim of E. J. Kneen and others against the estate of John James. The estate is represented by Bunge & Boshard, and the claimants by Morris & Hartwell.

Even the wise men are occasionally otherwise. The night-key is not usually the key to success.
